

The FCC will soon decide on further deregulation and proposed relaxation of media ownership rules. I strongly believe that concentration of media in the hands of fewer and fewer large corporations poses a direct threat to our democracy. Informed citizens are more important than happy consumers.